

The International Parliamentary Scholarship Programme for Arab (IPS) countries of the German Bundestag grants 24 young and talented Arab graduates the opportunity to get to know the German parliamentary system during a one month programme in September 2017. The programme is intended for talented Arab graduates who are interested in politics and who are keen to play an active role in promoting core democratic values in their home countries. The one month programme including a one-week internship in a Member's constituency is intended to bring German politics closer to the participants.

The applicants should be under the age of 35 at the start of the scholarship, politically engaged, graduated from university, and proficient in German. The admission period for the International Parliamentary Scholarship for Arab countries 2017 expires on February 15th 2017. All applications are to be sent to the German diplomatic representation of the applicant's home country.

For more information on the IPS, the application procedure and access to the application forms please visit:

<http://www.bundestag.de/en/europe/international/exchange/ips/arabian/250618>

The German Bundestag would appreciate if you could share this matter with potential applicants, peers and on social media. Attached to this mail you'll find the "IPS programme for Arab states 2017"- flyers in German, English and Arabic.