

We would like to draw your attention to the Second Annual GJU Research Day.

GJU Research Day will be held on Tuesday November 14th, 2017 with a wide variety of presentations and Keynote Speakers such as Professor Abeer Al-Bawab, Scientific Research Support Fund, Jordan, and Professor Fouad Mrad, ESCWA Technology Center, Jordan. This day is associated with GJU research activities in all fields. The event aims to provide spacious range of high quality, creative, original and excellent scientific exchange covering a broad area of research activities in all disciplines at GJU and Jordan.

It is with great pleasure to invite you to attend and submit your research presentations and posters to the Second Annual GJU Research Day. All presentations must address research in general rather than a specific research topic or interest.

For the latest information please visit the Second Annual GJU Research Day 2017 web page:
