5th GJU Job Fair

Empowering GJU Students & Graduates

Welcome note

Dear Student, dear Graduate, dear Guest,
A very warm welcome to the GJU Job Fair 2015!

This year we are not only celebrating the 10th anniversary of GJU but also the 5th anniversary of the GJU Job Fair. Our Job Fair became part of the regular annual activities offered at GJU in order to support our students and graduates in finding internships and jobs, learn more about possible career opportunities and to enhance the university-industry cooperation.

We are glad to offer the companies and visitors a larger exhibition space in our new building hoping that this venue will meet your expectations and offers you an enriching platform to connect, hire and be inspired.

For the first time we are introducing an “Entrepreneurship Corner” aiming at connecting young startup companies and entrepreneur support organization with students and promoting the entrepreneurial activities at GJU under the umbrella of its “Program Innovation and Entrepreneurship (PIE)”.

We are welcoming more than 50 participating companies that are introducing themselves in this Job Fair Handbook. This booklet will give the visitor an overview about the companies' different fields of work and their job and internship opportunities. It aims not only at guiding you through the Job Fair but may be kept also as a reference for future job search.

The Office for Industrial Links (OIL) is the unit at GJU which connects the university with the industry on different levels. Part of our activities is to provide career service and guidance for our students and graduates as well as recruitment services for our industry partners.

I would like to thank my colleagues of the OIL who put so many efforts in organizing for the Job Fair, the Career Guidance Office of the King Abdullah II Fund at GJU, the colleagues of the Communication and Public Relations Department, our student assistants and the colleagues of the different study departments who all contributed to the implementation of this event.

A special thank goes to our partners Akhtaboot and Bayt.com.

*“The future depends on what you do today”
- Mahatma Gandhi*

The GJU Job Fair Team wishes all our visitors and company representatives a very successful GJU Job Fair 2015!

*Britta Kähler
Director, Office for Industrial Links

Mission:

To provide outstanding service, quality products at a competitive price and to build stronger relations with our clients, contractors, architects, suppliers, and companies.

We aim at expanding our range of products and services to offer more flexibility, selection, efficiency and innovation. Also to empower our team with regular training and access to the latest tools and machinery to achieve highest standards in glass and mirrors manufacturing.

Brief History:

The late Great Subhi Mansour was the first to introduce the Glass and Mirrors profession to Jordan and Palestine in the early 1940s. He operated under the names Great Mansour Stores and The National Mirrors Factory, with several branches in both countries.

When Great Mansour passed away in 1983, His sons, Hisham, Subhi and Mohammed Zaid Mansour, took over and Mansour Industrial Complex for Glass & Mirrors was established in 1995. Situated in the capital of Amman in Al Qastal region near Queen Alia Airport, on an area of 20,000 sq.m.

The first completed "Phase 1" of the factory was equipped with state-of-the-art equipment, and launched the fields of stained, fused, tempered and curved glass, modern CNC, CAD and CAM machines were introduced and raised the automation of glass manufacturing to a new level, providing designers with exceptional tools to produce unique designs and artistic products with extraordinary precision.

In the second completed "Phase 2", the need for more working space and new systems led to an expansion in 2003. A new hangar was constructed, occupied about 2500 sq.m, which brought on the addition of a tempering furnace, lamination and heat soak systems in addition to a lecture hall that is used for conferences and presentations for both customers and managers.

In November 2009, "Phase 3" started due to increased local and international competition and the expansion of the market, Mansour Industrial Complex decided to further invest in improving itself by establishing a 3000 sq.m factory occupying another 3000 sq.m, adding new glass manufacturing processes including Double Glass, Mass Production Lamination and Bended Tempered Glass production lines with various Radius.

Today, Mansour Co. owns the largest share in the Jordanian market, catering to the glass needs of major residential projects and distinguished world-wide franchises, hotels, banks, malls and hospitals in the Middle East and North Africa. Jordan Competitiveness Program

The USAID Jordan Competitiveness Program (JCP) partners with the public and private sectors to grow the economy and create good jobs for Jordanians. Increases in Foreign Direct investment and Exports will result directly from the project's efforts. In order to most effectively achieve these goals, JCP executed a comprehensive diagnostic process with intensive stakeholder engagement and value chain analysis of potential growth sectors. As a result of these analyses, a development strategy was created that focused on three opportunity sectors: Information and Communication Technology (ICT), Clean Technology (CT) and Healthcare and Life Sciences (HLS). For each of these sectors, a separate integrated plan was created that included financial, legal/regulatory, workforce development, and R&D support.

While each of these sectors has its own challenges and complications, USAID JCP's experience demonstrates that sector competitiveness can be increased through an integrated approach that leverages four program areas:

- Supportive Enabling Environment - Works closely with the Government of Jordan to implement policy and regulatory reform that enables the private sector to be more competitive and innovative. This work also opens up opportunities for increased trade in the region and across the globe.
- Workforce Development - Prepares Jordan's youth (both men AND women) to work in USAID JCP's opportunity sectors. This preparation is accomplished through strengthened Career Development Centers, establishment of Centers of Excellence, and expanded internships and training programs – all focused on the market needs of these competitive sectors.
- Sector Working Groups or "Cluster" Development - Engages private sector stakeholders in a collaborative process to develop and implement growth strategies. Strategies in the three sectors capitalize on Jordan's competitive advantages and use global best practices from around the world.
- Access to Finance - Increases the ability of Jordanians to gain financing in order to grow their businesses. The program creates awareness of available financing, develops programs that build the capacity of firms to offer and find financing, and supports the development of innovative public private partnerships and "angel" investment networks that create new sources of financing for the market.

Each sector's activities are available in separate flyers.
