A SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

EDU-SYRIA/EDU-JORDAN Scholarship

For Master's Degree

The EDU-SYRIA/EDU-JORDAN program, funded by the EU through the regional trust fund “Madad” in response to the Syrian crisis and managed by the German Jordanian University, announces that the door is now open for Jordanian candidates to apply for scholarships for Master's Degree for the upcoming academic year 2020/2021.

The EDU-SYRIA/EDU-JORDAN for graduate studies is a component implemented by DAAD as part of the larger project “Support to Higher Education for Syrian Refugees and Vulnerable Jordanian Youth”, that has eight other programs. The project aim to support higher education for Syrian refugees and vulnerable Jordanian youth by providing young students with opportunities to pursue higher education (bachelor and master's degrees), vocational education, technical training, special entrepreneurial training, and labor market-oriented courses, as well as summer programs for high school students. The EDU-SYRIA/EDU-JORDAN scholarship project, led by the German Jordanian University in partnership with multiple institutes, has awarded over 1,800 scholarships so far, with the aim of providing a total of 3,000 scholarships by the end of the project's tenure.
